

Industrial Design Professional Program Application Procedure

Notes to all Applicants

Filling out an application to Brigham Young University is not the same as applying to the Industrial Design Program: they are two separate applications. Admittance to the Industrial Design Program is contingent upon a student being admitted to the university.

All courses within the Industrial Design Program are limited-enrollment courses requiring departmental approval before registering.

Procedure

- I. Applicants to the Industrial Design Professional Program are required to submit the following:
 - A. An 11" X 17" portfolio case with sheet protectors displaying 3 or 4 samples of your best work from your Pre-Industrial Design foundation courses. The application portfolio should have no more than 20 single sided pages. There may be multiple images on a page. 3D work will need to be photographed and printed.
 - B. Two copies of the application.
 - C. A current ABC or progress report. If transferring from another college or university, attach an official transcript of college courses completed.
- II. All applications and portfolios for the Industrial Design Professional Program are due in 250 SNLB, no later than 4:00 p.m., on April 25th.
- III. After the application & portfolio review, a notification e-mail will be sent to each applicant by May 2nd. As soon as you have been accepted, you will be allowed to register for the Professional-level courses.
- IV. All portfolios must be picked up from 250 SNLB by June 1st. Portfolios not picked up by June 1st will be discarded.
- V. If you have questions regarding admissions to Brigham Young University, please contact the Admissions Office at (801) 422-2507. If you have questions regarding transfer of other college or university course work, please contract the Transfer Evaluation Office at (801) 422-8522.
- VI. If you have any further questions regarding the Industrial Design Program, please call the School of Technology Advisement Office at (801) 422-1818.
